Third Party Software Integration

What is the integration service of our Switchboard in the internal software of your company?

Example:

A real estate company uses a computer program tailored to manage their purchases and sales.

Your employees are already familiar with the environment of this software that they have been using for less than two years.

The company is interested in improving the performance provided by this program. At Neotel we give the possibility that your work tool can make, receive and transfer calls.

Through the Websocket technology, we add everything offered by a Virtual Switchboard to the functionalities of its internal software.

The installation is clean and simple.

You just have to follow an instruction manual that we will provide you through an email.

Enhance and simplify your internal management with this integration via Webservice.

Third Party Software Integration

Include the PBX functionality in your company's software with the Neotel connector.

Make, receive and transfer calls through this tool.

Receive in detail the information generated by each of its extensions.

With Websocket technology you will obtain everything that a Virtual Switchboard offers.

Empower and simplify your internal procedures.

Control for your business.
